Taste of Scotland – Border Collies – Sheep and Food

Cost: $450 for group of 4; $40 each additional person up to ten persons Time: 9 am – 1 pm
Moving sheep with sheepdogs is a practice dating back centuries, and you'll be part of this farming tradition and learn how to be a shepherd. Hike with the border collies to the hills where the sheep graze. Working with a professional shepherd and sheepdog trainer, you'll learn the basics of sheep and sheepdog management. Sheepdogs are critical in helping the shepherd perform tasks such as moving the sheep onto fresh pastures, sorting sheep for shearing or health management tasks such as trimming hooves, tagging lambs, docking tails. The shepherd, using traditional commands, will use the dogs to perform tasks of the day. You'll cap your special morning off with a traditional Scottish lunch on the farm. Join us and savor a true taste of Scotland!

Poultry and/or Rabbit Butchering

Cost: $250 for group of 4; $35 each additional person up to ten persons Time: 9 am – Noon
Broiler chickens are raised from day-old chicks that arrive via post to eight-week old chickens or broilers grown on pasture. See the different phases of raising chickens from critter proof chick pens to free range on pasture. The experience includes intensive hands-on learning about raising chickens on pasture, slaughtering chickens en plein air and preparing and a whole chicken for roasting or the crock pot or breaking down the chicken for sautéing, grilling or baking. Rabbits are caged raised during kindling and transferred to pasture cages at weaning. Observe the rabbitry and pastured rabbit cages or rabbit fleet. Learn how to raise rabbits on pasture. The experience teaches you how to raise, slaughter and prepare rabbits for stewing, braising, sautéing and grilling.

Field and Kitchen Boot Camp

Cost: $650 for two persons: includes overnight accommodations; $475 for two persons without accommodations Time: 9 am – 2 pm

Working hands-on in the kitchen of Fable at Stone & Thistle Farm and you'll learn to think about buying and cooking organic, local and seasonal foods in a whole new way. You'll understand not only the "how tos" but also some of the "whys" behind cooking farm fresh foods. During the one-day workshop you will tour the farm and learn how our food is raised. You will enjoy a farm fresh lunch which you planned and prepared (including slaughtering and butchering). Overnight accommodations available at the farm's Farmhouse Suite or Farmhand Cabin or at Harmony Hill Retreat, a stone's throw from the farm.
